

Sunday 10th May

Hello to you all. I hope that you have had a good week and bank holiday weekend. We spent some time last week preparing for our VE celebrations. We made bunting and hung it outside and planned a menu for our afternoon tea. Oscar and Lucy helped with the baking and made sausage rolls, brownies, peach trifle and some carrot scones. Oscar got the carrot scone recipe in his home learning - we were a bit unsure about how they might taste but they were delicious, especially with some raspberry jam! I think we might have to make some more very soon!

I'll write again soon. Take care.
