

White Rose Third Space Learning Worksheets

11th May 2020

Dear Parent,

You will have noticed today that White Rose have stopped publishing the worksheets on their site and have made them available through a school subscription service.

The federation have not subscribed to this service, therefore we do not have access to the worksheets. As a federation, we encourage children to use their own mathematical working and recording in problem solving and, therefore, try to minimise the reliance upon, and use of, worksheets.

Additionally, we would not be allowed to put the worksheets on the website as it is currently an open website. We removed the requirement for a password in the first week of lockdown as many parents were experiencing difficulties in accessing the site.

With regards to the current maths home learning, we suggest children still work through the video lessons, but use paper to record any workings / answer questions. We realise that for some mathematical topics (e.g. co-ordinates, measure, etc.) that will be a lot more difficult than others, but in those circumstances, we will try to set appropriate activities from Mathletics.

Kind regards

Mr Payne
